Specification

Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

Therefore, "...the present invention..." (lines 1-2) is implied and should be avoided. Also, it is suggested to place reference numeral "24" in parentheses.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

Claims 1 and 2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. The claims specifically call for a "connecting/disconnecting" state (the actuator is either fully connected or fully disconnected). The skilled artisan would not know as to how to make and/or use the automatic device and change the state to a half-connecting state.

Art Unit: 3661

Claims 3 – 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Regarding claims 3, 5, 6, 9, and 11, “the half-connecting state” (lines 21, 3, 12, 10, 15, respectively) lacks proper antecedent basis. The claims have only established a connecting/disconnecting actuator (not “half” connecting [state] actuator). Claims linked to the above rejected claims are necessarily rejected.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 3, 6, 9, and 11 (and linked claims) would be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph (provided the amendment does not result in a non-positive recitation of actual connecting/disconnecting state), set forth in this Office action. A statement of reasons will be provided pending establishment of what Applicant intends to positively claim.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Ishihara et al. (US 5,954,176), Kobayashi et al. (JP 2002122163 A), and Komatsu et al. (JP 60241553 A) all teach related automatic clutch control for a vehicle with disconnection and connection capabilities.
